

Maureen McQuillan is an artist based in New York and has been exhibiting her work for two decades, both in the U.S. and internationally, including eight solo shows (New York, Baltimore, San Francisco and Paris). Her most recent solo show was entitled "Process Color" in 2015 at McKenzie Fine Art in NYC. Group exhibitions include: The Weatherspoon Art Museum, Greensboro, NC; The Contemporary Museum, Baltimore, Maryland; The Drawing Center, NY; The Islip Art Museum, NY; Herter Gallery, UMass Amherst; The College of New Rochelle, NY; the John Michael Kohler Arts Center, Wisconsin; and Le VOG Contemporary Arts Center, Fontaine and The College of Art and Design, Grenoble, France among many others. McQuillan's work has been mentioned and reproduced in The New York Times, Newsday, The Boston Globe, TimeOut, The San Francisco Chronicle, San Francisco Examiner, ARTnews, Architectural Digest and Art on Paper, and her work is held in private and public collections all over the world. Maureen McQuillan is represented by McKenzie Fine Art in New York.